

Conducting a Home Plastic Audit

The purpose of this worksheet is to help catalog your plastic use and identify which areas of your home result in the most plastic waste. You can use this sheet to look at just your own plastic use or include your family and track their usage as well. This can be done over any timeframe but aim to collect data for at least one week or up to one month. The longer the plastic audit, the more comprehensive the data.

To use the worksheet, begin with the What and Where column. Find the location in your home and write down the plastic item that was used. Next, use the Item Descripton column to add any clarifying details about your item (e.g. size, plastic type, color, etc.). Then, try to assign the plastic item into a Category provided on page 5. Record the Date that you collected the data and the Duration (how long) the item was used for. Finally, add any Notes about the item/use or how you plan to find a plastic-free alternative. If you run out of rows, you can use the "Other" section or a blank piece of paper and copy over the necessary information.
